

DIRECT PILOT ASSISTANCE

Since 1951 Harvey Watt & Co has stood behind their products and services with a full time AeroMedical staff. Every day professional pilots turn to us when faced with the harsh reality that the FAA has deemed them disqualified to fly. While disability benefits help pay the bills temporarily, they provide little comfort when faced with the very real possibility that this could be the end of their flying career.

What make us different: The Harvey Watt AeroMedical staff is available to help those pilots do what it takes to rescue their career and regain their medical certificates. We are the only insurance provider that manages Pilot Disability plans & AeroMedical Services for more than 50,000 US pilots. Thanks to the large number of pilots we serve and the number of years we have been offering AeroMedical direction, no one knows the importance a caring resource can be to disabled pilots. Many disqualifying conditions require ongoing testing at specific intervals. If pilots are not advised when they should have those tests done, they could be grounded another year or two after they have recovered while undergoing the required test to show the FAA proper stability. Another example where our help can be immeasurable is in treatment and medications. When requested by pilots, our doctors often work with doctors of airmen to conceive an effective treatment plan that would not interfere with the pilot's FAA medical certification down the road.

3 LEVELS OF ASSISTANCE

EDUCATION	PREVENTATIVE MEDICAL ASSISTANCE	FAA RE-CERTIFICATION
Aviation Medical Bulletin is provided electronically to all members of the airline or association delivering brief summaries of the latest health research & studies. Pilots can be sent a monthly iPad "push" or emailed. Health insurance carriers often give a discount for providing a monthly good health bulletin.	Don't hesitate to call or email.  Our doctors can help pilots and their treating physicians evaluate treatment options. Know what the FAA requires, when to take action, and how to avoid unnecessary grounding & certification delays.	Confidential assistance from our doctors & nurses led by Dr. Warren Silberman, former Chief of the FAA Certification Division. We submit cases, expedite approval, interface with the FAA on pilot's behalf, handle appeals, and confidentially advocate for airmen.

At Harvey Watt, we know that when professional pilots are grounded, they need more than disability benefits. That's why our full time staff of Senior AME's, Flight Surgeon Nurse, and AME trained medical consultants are here for pilots when there's no where else to turn.
